

PINCHOT TELLS OF BOLT OF SEVERAL DEMOCRAT LEADERS

"Actuated by Highest and Most Serious Motives," He Remarks

SPEAKS AT McKEESPORT

"Hemphill's Election Would Be Triumph for Phila. Gang"

McKEESPORT, Oct. 25.—"When Democrats of such prominence in the State and Nation as William B. Wilson, John A. McSparran, Judge Eugene Bonniwell, Vance McCormick, and Bruce Sterling publicly renounce Hemphill and urge their fellow Democrats to vote for me, the regular Republican candidate, no one can deny that they are actuated by the highest and the most serious motives," declared Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for Governor in a speech here last night.

"Each of them has fought his hardest in years past for the Democratic Party. If they believed the election of Hemphill would be a real victory for the Democratic Party and for the good of the Commonwealth, their thousands of followers know they would work night and day to support him," continued Mr. Pinchot.

"But each one of them has said, and in the most unqualified way, that Hemphill's election would not be a victory for the Democracy, but a triumph for the Philadelphia gang, and its public utility masters who seek to seize control of the State Government."

"Who are these Democratic leaders who have taken this extraordinary political course? William B. Wilson is a national figure because of his service as Congressman and Secretary of Labor. He was the Democratic candidate for Senator in 1926. He is personally known to thousands throughout the State, and respected wherever he is known. Only a crisis within his party would lead him to do what he has now done."

"Mr. McCormick was the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1914. He was Woodrow Wilson's campaign manager, and he has been a leading figure in his Party nationally for years."

"Judge Bonniwell was twice honored as the candidate of his Party in 1918 and 1926. He is one of the foremost and among the best known Democrats in Pennsylvania."

"Mr. McSparran was for many years Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange. He was my opponent in 1922, and is now generously supporting his former foe."

"So we have here arrayed against Hemphill all the candidates for Governor on the Democratic ticket since 1914."

"Mr. Sterling was for some years the Democratic State Chairman. As such he fought with all his might for the Democratic tickets."

"Why have these men turned Hemphill down and come out for Pinchot? One of the reasons is that when Hemphill was called upon for an explanation as to what he had promised the Philadelphia gang leaders for their support, he was quoted as saying, 'It is not for us to inquire into the reasons which have led them to back me.' But I have no such reluctance about examining into the reasons that have caused these five eminent Democrats to turn from Hemphill to Pinchot."

"They certainly have not taken their stand because of the 'wet' or 'dry' issue. If that were so, Judge Bonniwell would not be among them. I am sure that he is just as 'wet' today as when he ran for Governor on that issue in 1926."

"Each, in his public statement, has made it perfectly clear that his refusal to support Hemphill is due to his conviction that the issue in this campaign is not the Eighteenth Amendment but the question as to whether the State Government of Pennsylvania shall be turned over, lock, stock, and barrel, to the two so-called interests which back Hemphill—the Philadelphia gang and its public utility masters."

"These five leaders in the Party recognize that Hemphill's 'wet' appeal is merely a smoke screen to hide the real reasons for his candidacy. They know that if the Philadelphia gang leaders and the utility men who make up the fake Liberal Party were really 'wet' they would be supporting Kistler, the 'wet' Democratic candidate for United States Senator. They realize that public utility control against government by the people is the big issue that will be fought out at the polls on November 4, and that a victory for Hemphill would be a disaster for the Commonwealth."

"The testimony which these patriotic Democratic leaders have borne should have impressive effect on the Republican voters of Philadelphia."

"The bolting gang leaders in that city have fattened for years through appeals for Republican regularity. Now, since they have failed at the Primary and before the Supreme Court, they boast that they will lead the Philadelphia voters, like so many blindfolded sheep, to vote for Hemphill."

CONVINCING ADDRESSES AT W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Practically Every Section of Pennsylvania Represented At Uniontown

MANY PHASES OF WORK

The 56th State Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union which closed at Uniontown on Wednesday, held many department conferences, listened to convincing and instructive addresses by national speakers, and enjoyed vocal and instrumental music by the best of artists from various parts of the state.

Practically every section of Pennsylvania was represented at the four days' sessions.

Every pulpit in Uniontown was filled Sunday by white ribbon speakers, some churches having different people at the evening meeting.

Mrs. Lucy A. Harper, of Yardley, led the devotions on Saturday afternoon. In her annual address, Mrs. Ella Black, who was reelected president, said in the past that President Hoover has kept faith with the American people, that Gifford Pinchot carried sixty of the sixty-seven counties in the state, and will be the next Governor of Pennsylvania.

The women worked for Pinchot, not because he was a Republican but because he had been tried and found true.

As a warning to future candidates let us remind them that a large body of Christian women will cast their ballots not straw votes on election day for dry candidates.

Using letters from many college presidents in Pennsylvania as testimony, Mrs. Black pointed out that sobriety, not drinking, is the rule in the colleges.

"We have the 18th amendment, we have the Pact of Paris, these are laws, let us work, read, write, speak and pray for both of these laws," is the advice of a Bucks County W. C. T. U. officer.

Mrs. Black advised that an educational program be the Union's main objective in 1931.

One of the fine features was the banquet, Saturday evening, with tables filled to capacity, 400; and 100 late, would-be reservationists disappointed. Mrs. Ella A. Boole, L. L. D., said the World's W. C. T. U. is organized women in action against the liquor traffic. Women have always been the greatest sufferers from the liquor traffic.

Among items brought out at the convention were: "The saloon was formerly the poor man's club, now it has no friends; it was prohibition that closed the saloons. The women of America must hold fast that which they have gained."

"Prohibition means better health, more money in the homes of the nation and the increase of the sum total of the welfare of the people in America."

"We put principles above party and vote for conditions to uphold best principles. Distribute literature to convince the community that prohibition is the best policy."

Among those introduced to the convention were Harold Craven, Rich-

STATE GOVERNMENTAL BUDGET SYSTEM

The Courier herewith presents an informative article written by Arthur P. Townsend, Langhorne, Budget Secretary to the Hon. John S. Fisher, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania.

The story is taken from the current issue of a monthly publication, "Pennsylvania Progress," which is issued by Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

The article will be published in daily installments until completed.

Budget Secretary of Pennsylvania

CONTROLLING EXPENDITURES

1. Contracts

Nearly all of the construction and repair work of State buildings, monuments, etc., is done by means of a contract between the State and parties outside the State government. Upon execution, these contracts become a fixed liability of the State until paid. As a means of insuring that there will be money for payment, the amounts of all proposed contracts except contracts for State road construction are entered upon the records of the Budget Secretary and amounts set aside out of the appropriation and classification items to which they apply. No contract can be executed unless it bears the certificate of the Budget Secretary as to available funds. This saves the State government the embarrassment of entering into obligations which it cannot pay.

2. Purchase Orders

The same procedure obtains in the case of purchase orders. Under the law all purchasing must be done by the Department of Property and Supplies either as principal or as agent for another department, board or commission. All purchase orders executed by the Department of Property and Supplies as principal are charged by it against its own budget estimate. In the case of departments, boards or commissions for which it may act as agent, the budget estimates are on file in the Budget Bureau. An arrangement has been worked out whereby the Department of Property and Supplies submits to the Budget Secretary requisitions covering purchases for which it acts as agent. These are checked with the budgets and approved or rejected depending upon the budgeted funds available. Only requisitions in excess of $200 are treated in this way since it has been found that sufficient check is provided thereby to prevent any serious overdrawing of the budget. No purchase of more than $200 can be made without approval of the Budget Secretary.

3. Employees' Annual Salaries

Fifteen percent (15%) of the annual operating expenditures of the State represents the salaries of full time State employees. The budget estimate of each appropriation includes allowances for salaries under two items of the classification: A-1 "Salaries, $3,000 and Over" and A-2 "Salaries, Less than $3,000."

The State has a very comprehensive system for handling salaried personnel, which includes constant check with the budgets to make sure that at all times the budget is sufficient to cover the salary of every employee to the end of the appropriation period. All positions are numbered on a "Table of Organization" for each department, board or commission and classified according to standards established by the Executive Board of which the Governor is the Chairman. This "Table" also includes the name and salary of each employee. The Budget Bureau keeps a record of the name, position, monthly and annual salary of each employee of every department, board and commission in the Executive Department, except the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department, divided between Items "A-1" and "A-2" described above. This record is always in agreement with the "Table of Organization." A total of the monthly and annual salaries of the employees of any agency represents the monthly and annual payroll rates, respectively, of that agency. The monthly and annual budgets must at all times be sufficient to cover the monthly and annual payroll rates. As a means of assuring this provision, all proposed payroll changes are routed through the Budget Bureau and must bear the approval of the Budget Secretary as to availability of funds before they are submitted to the Governor. Under the State's Budget System no employee can be added to the payroll and no salary increase may be granted if the budget is insufficient to care for it.

4. Lease Rentals

The State government occupies many rented offices, garages, storage

STONE MOUNTAIN IS OBJECTIVE OF TOUR

Is Exceptionally Alluring Journey During Early Autumn Days

TRIP TOTALS 1720 MILES

Picturesque Stone Mountain, the largest solid rock in the world, which is being transformed into a gigantic memorial to the Lost Cause of the South, is the objective of an attractive motor tour outlined by the Keystone Automobile Club. The entire round trip can be covered in approximately 1720 miles, and is an exceptionally alluring journey in early Autumn.

"Eventually Stone Mountain will be transformed into a monument unequalled for size and grandeur in any other part of the world," says Russell B. Carty, representative of the club. "It is estimated that it will take ten years to complete the work of carving into the mountainside the heroic figures of great Civil War leaders. Other improvements in this highly scenic region will include the installation of a giant organ in a natural sounding box on the mountain above a vast amphitheatre that will accommodate 40,000 persons. The tour leads homeward through the Piedmont section of North Carolina and the historic territory of Virginia and the national capital."

From Bristol tour leads via Lincoln Highway over City Line avenue, turning right on Lancaster avenue, known as U. S. Route 30 which carries the travelers westward through Coatesville, Lancaster and York to Gettysburg. Here a left turn leads over state routes 116 and 16 to Waynesboro where another left turn into the state highway carries the tourists to historic Hagerstown. Southward over U. S. Route 11 the journey winds south through the Shenandoah Valley, past Winchester with its wealth of Civil War and Colonial memories to New Market in the heart of the cavern country. Continuing over the same highway the tourists pass Staunton, Lexington and Natural Bridge enroute to Roanoke, Va.

From this highly scenic region many historic shrines can be visited in attractive side trips. Southward from Roanoke, U. S. Route 311 is followed over a winding course, through Martinsville and across the North Carolina boundary enroute to quaint old Winston-Salem. Located in the heart of the Piedmont plateau and famed for its beautiful topography and delightful climate this historic old town is always a treat for visitors. Its narrow winding streets contain many Colonial buildings some dating back to the days of the Moravians who founded the place in 1766.

From this point state routes 65, 90 and 26 are used to Statesville, where U. S. Route 70 is met and followed to Asheville, located in a delightful resort region. From here U. S. Route 19 leads southward along the rugged range of the Great Smoky Mountains and across the border into Blairsville, Ga. Through interesting rural sections this same highway is followed through Gainesville, Buford and Decatur to Atlanta, one of the most interesting and attractive towns in the old South. In addition to Kennesaw Mountain, the scene of a memorable battle in the Civil War, Atlanta considers Stone Mountain one of her chief points of interest. The famous memorial mountain is reached through Decatur and over well paved state highways.

On the homeward journey U. S. Route 29 is followed to Athens, where stands the "Tree that owns itself." This celebrated curiosity is protected by a deed for eight feet of ground left to the tree in the will of a noted Georgia soldier. Athens is the second largest cotton market in the state and contains many places of historic interest. This same highway leads to

TWO HIGHWAY PLACES RAIDED BY OFFICERS

Lincoln Inn and Lincoln Point Both Visited by Officers Last Night

TWO ARRESTS MADE

Two places along the Lincoln Highway were raided last night by Corporal Dean and Trooper Crist from the Morrisville Barracks of State Police and Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo.

The raiders visited the Lincoln Inn at about nine o'clock and entered very quietly. There were a few patrons in the place at the time but it is believed that even these did not know of the visit of the officers.

Three-quarters of a barrel of what is believed to be near beer was found and samples taken.

Paul Altman, the proprietor, was not taken into custody.

At the Lincoln Point where the officers visited next, three half-barrels of beer were found and samples taken.

The proprietor, Joseph Greenberger, and the bartender, Jacob Bash, were both taken into custody.

Greenberger and Bash were taken for a hearing before Justice Nolan at Morrisville. Each was held under $500 bail for a further hearing next Thursday evening before Justice Lynn in the Bristol Municipal Building.

FOUR DISTRICTS TO SUBMIT LOAN PLAN TO THE VOTERS

Desire of Boards Is to Borrow $140,000 for Various Improvements

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

West Rockhill, Richland, New Hope and Newtown to Pass on Issues

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 24.—School bond issues involving no less than $140,000 in four Bucks county school districts will be acted upon at the Fall election in a few weeks.

It was announced from the office of County Superintendent J. Harry Hoffman that the school districts of Richland, West Rockhill, New Hope and Newtown will give their taxpayers the opportunity of either approving or turning down proposed bond issues.

Richland township is proposing a bond issue for $55,000 for the erection of a consolidated school to take care of the elementary grades. A series of eight meetings is being held in the various sections of the township for the purpose of acquainting the taxpayers with the proposition. Last year this township defeated a similar bond issue.

It has been suggested in Richland township that the excess children in the district be sent either to Richland township or to Quakertown borough, but Mr. Hoffman, who will attend all of these meetings, has informed the taxpayers that to send the pupils to the borough schools will mean an increase in the tax rate of about five mills. Another suggestion was made that the township erect a temporary school building, but this, it was found, will also increase the tax rate by about six mills.

Proponents of the movement feel that by extending a loan over a period of 30 years the taxes will not be greatly increased.

West Rockhill township, which last year defeated the school bond issue by six votes, will this year make an attempt to have its taxpayers approve a school loan, also for the purpose of bringing about consolidation.

New Hope borough is proposing a loan of $45,000 for the erection of an entirely new high school building to replace the one which is said to be inadequate in all respects.

The fourth district of the county, Newtown borough, proposes a school loan of $35,000 to be used in erecting additional buildings to take care of the increased enrollment in the borough.

County Superintendent Hoffman said yesterday that he expects to attend eleven evening meetings to consider these loans with the taxpayers in the various districts. Meetings will be held in West Rockhill township next Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Complete consolidation has been effected in at least seven districts of the county. They are Warminster, Warwick, Nockamixon, Durham, Northampton and Upper Northampton, Hilltown township, at a special election a few weeks ago, also decided to take up consolidation with a modern high school.

The question now facing the Board in Hilltown township is where to erect the new building. After selecting a site it developed that a group of the taxpayers disapproved the location. The matter is now in the hands of Dr. Lee S. Driver, head of the rural education department of the Department of Public Instruction, who will determine the site.

In addition to having complete consolidation in a number of the districts, the following townships have partial consolidation: Middletown, Bristol, Lower Southampton, Falls, Bensalem, Warrington, Doylestown and Lower Makefield.

QUEST

Scientific proof that civilized man is living longer and that the infant mortality rate is being lowered should occasion no amazement, for the factors behind them are quite commonplace.

For instance, there are the 6,665 hospitals providing 907,133 beds and 47,939 bassinets in the United States. Medicine has made marked progress. Physicians and surgeons are better trained and have more to work with. And there is public sanitation, pure milk and water, pure and nourishing food and enlightenment in the use of food, higher living standards, better housing and working conditions, accident prevention, public health agencies of proved efficacy in the prevention of epidemics, modern plumbing, better ventilating methods and other contributing factors evidence of which can be found on all sides.

Every citizen who avails himself of these aids to cooperation in accepting vaccination and other forms of immunization, in submitting to quarantine, in maintaining sanitary and healthful conditions, and in keeping informed on matters of diet, health and hygiene has made possible much of this progress. Without that cooperation medicine and public health services would have made little headway.

Man, fearing death, aspires to eternal life on this earth and eagerly accepts each addition to the average span of life, but he is not content with life alone. He wants a life free of pain and sickness, and that also is being given him in increasing degree.

NEVER A TIME LIKE THIS

In all societies man feeds more upon abstractions than he does upon facts. He is doubtless the most content who finds his kingdom in his mind. Such was the teaching of the days when the right to the pursuit of happiness was written into the Declaration of Independence, and the doctrine has not yet gone out of vogue. Yet the tangible and negotiable are what appeal to most people in this age of utilitarian comforts.

This generation derives most of its pleasure from automobiles, radios, sports, theaters and traveling. It likes fine homes, luxurious furnishings, fine clothes and simple but costly jewelry. It is enjoying life if ever there was a generation that did.

But it works as well as plays. It must work to indulge in the luxuries and pleasures the man of today feels he must indulge in. And working at high speed it must play harder or break under the strain.

Despite spectacular crime and pillage, there never was a day of worthier experience with higher awards than exists today in the United States for the young man who is willing to do one thing—buckle his best intelligence to honest work.

Into each life some rain must fall, of course, but some of us never see a drought.

A man reported $450 taken from his trousers while he slept. The news in that was that he was unmarried.

spaces, etc. Leases are executed for a year or longer. Money must be set aside to pay rentals as they fall due. Before any lease is executed by the State, a certificate must be procured from the Budget Secretary stating that money is available and has been set aside.

5. Surety Bonds

There are a large number of State employees who handle State money and must be bonded for their faithful performance of their duties. The Budget Secretary keeps a record of these and prior to the purchase of any bond, he approves the expenditure of the premium therefor.

6. Insurance

Loss of State property by fire or other casualty is covered by a fund set up by the General Assembly. Under the law, the Governor must approve all expenditures from this fund to replace property damaged or destroyed. He has delegated the Budget Secretary to scrutinize all claims and make recommendations to him.

Protection of State employees from claims for property or personal damage resulting from the operation of State automobiles and protection of the State from claims of injury under the Workmen's Compensation Act are provided by a biennial appropriation out of which the State buys automobile and workmen's compensation insurance. The Department of Property and Supplies buys this insurance subject to the approval of the Budget Secretary.

7. Automotive Equipment

The Administrative Code of 1929 placed the control of all the State's automotive equipment in the Department of Property and Supplies. The General Assembly of 1929 gave the Department of Property and Supplies an appropriation with which to replace or augment this equipment from time to time. The Governor establishes an amount of value of motor equipment which every agency of his part of the Executive Department may have in operation at any time. No unit of equipment is assigned to any agency and no unit is replaced without the certificate of the Budget Secretary that sufficient funds are allowed for the purpose.

8. Copies of Transmittals and Requisitions Submitted to Secretary

A proper budget control makes it necessary that at all times the Governor be kept informed through the Budget Secretary just how the income received compares with the estimates upon which the granted appropriations were based. Also, it is necessary that all receipts be credited accurately to their respective sources. To assure this the Budget Secretary is furnished with a copy of every transmittal by which moneys are deposited in the State Treasury by the Department of Revenue. These transmittals are daily examined by the Budget Bureau and recorded.

The budget classification of expenditures cannot be utilized to the fullest extent unless it is safeguarded and controlled. Corresponding expenditures of every agency must be classified under the same items. No agency can be permitted to evade its budget responsibility by mis-classifying any expenditure. To insure uniformity and prevent any error, the Budget Secretary is furnished with a copy of all invoices and expenditure requisitions of every agency of the Executive Department, except the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department, which it examines and records. Errors in classification are referred to the responsible agency for correction. This process of examination of invoices and requisitions has a very useful by-product effect. It gives the Budget Secretary an insight into the operations of every agency. Oftentimes he can glean from this source

CANCEL CONTEST HERE WITH ST. ANN'S ELEVEN

By T. M. Juno

The Bristol St. Ann's football eleven will not play tomorrow.

Earlier in the week the locals were scheduled with the Kent Tigers. But at the last minute the Trenton club notified the Bristol officials that they (the Kents) are not ready for the Bristol club.

The local management tried to book a fray for Sunday on Sullivan's field but it was too late.

The game with the Kents was scheduled to be played at Trenton. Bristol St. Ann's is now endeavoring to enter a series of games with Yardley, New Hope and Doylestown to determine the championship of Bucks County.

If any of the above teams are scheduled the game will be played on the opposing team's grounds, as the Bristol fans are not properly supporting the local eleven and unless the support is better within the next few weeks, the Purple and Gold will finish its schedule away from home.

Bank Teller Reveals Fake Holdup in Phila.

Charles L. Grubb, 24, of Philadelphia, Pa., confessed to police that he had manufactured the story of being held up by a bank bandit who supposedly robbed him of $5,900. Grubb was a teller in a branch of the Franklin Trust Company, where his bride of a month is also employed.

NOTICE

Notice is given from the sheriff's office, Doylestown, that the place of election for the electors of the First Precinct, First Ward of Bristol Borough, on Tuesday, November 4th, will be the office building adjoining the Bristol Trust Company, formerly Kraft's, in said precinct. It was previously announced the place of election for that precinct would be No. 1 Fire Company station.

boro, the State Y. P. B. president, Mabel D. Pennock, of Delaware County, candidate for lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, and Magistrate Violet Fahnestock, of Philadelphia.

Hon. Clyde Kelley, representative in the House at Washington, D. C., said prohibition is the noblest experiment in promoting human welfare since the law abolished forever slave traffic in America.

Judge Hudson, in welcoming the guests, told how they dealt with the problem of bootleggers. "With a large foreign population, many manufacturing plants and few farmers, we have a district attorney with plenty of backbone, also three judges who also believe in the 18th amendment, and as long as these conditions continue bootleggers in Fayette county will go to the workhouse where they belong," it was stated at the convention.

ELECTRIC CO. REACHES ITS EARLY PREDICTION

"With approximately $20,000,000 in construction projects already completed or in the process of completion, and large-scale expansion activities definitely scheduled for the last quarter of the year, Philadelphia Electric Company bids fair to match, dollar for dollar, its confident prediction made a year ago that the company would carry out, without material modification, the full quota of its 1930 budget—$26,400,000," William H. Taylor, president, said yesterday.

"Although the company's 1930 construction budget was set up well in advance of the 1929 slump in the financial market, and there was at that time at least a surface justification for a policy of retrenchment in the electric and gas industries as a whole," said Mr. Taylor. "Philadelphia Electric Company joined with other utilities in promising President Hoover full speed ahead in its construction projects as originally planned. It was the thought of utility executives, when that promise was made, that the situation at the moment warranted courageous action by the great business and utility organizations of the country. It was freely admitted in Washington and elsewhere that no other single factor had developed which promised more healthy and more stabilizing influences than this voluntary action of the utilities."

"Philadelphia Electric Company has gone ahead in its building program as originally planned, with the result that a large part of the budget monies provided for have already gone into new substations, new transmission lines, new district office buildings and various other avenues calling for large expenditures and correspondingly increased needs for both skilled and unskilled labor."

"Many of these projects are now complete while others are in varying stages of completion. In the next several months additional amounts will be authorized, as needed, for such activities as replacement of aerial facilities by underground, construction work in advance of municipal improvements, new street lighting facilities, etc."

"In addition to the foregoing, the company has authorized the immediate expenditure of $850,000 for the construction of a new gas holder at West Conshohocken. This project, originally a part of our 1931 schedule, has been advanced to this year's calendar. It will provide a need for additional labor at both the point of manufacture and at the West Conshohocken location, where several months' excavating and other work will be required to prepare the way for the holder itself. "Our construction program during the year has been well distributed over our entire field of operations and has included major building construction or system improvement in practically every section of the territory we serve. Fortunately, much of this work has been of a character to require considerable additional local labor which has been secured from communities at or near the scene of operations."

"New sub-stations have been erected in the Frankford-Torresdale district, Upper Darby, Morrisville and Wayne, while extensive reconstruction operations have been carried on at our sub-station plants in Philadelphia, Chester, Doylestown, West Chester, Harboro, Phoenixville, Plymouth Meeting, Pottstown, Barbours Island and other points. Additional facilities and equipment have been installed in our Chester and Delaware generating stations. Erection of the Plymouth Meeting-Roseland transmission lines, making possible a tie-in with the energy resources of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company of New Jersey, the completion of a third Plymouth Meeting-Westmoreland line and additional Chester-Lamokin and Schuylkill-Powellton lines were outstanding projects in a program of system expansion which has made 1930 stand out as one of our record construction years."

"New district office buildings have been erected in South Philadelphia and Frankford, and demolition has been completed looking to the early erection of a new office building in our Northwest District."

"While our construction budget for the coming year has not been definitely set up, we believe that our construction year 1931 will be a large contributing factor in general business of the community. Major projects are being constantly studied with a view of getting them actively under way without delay."

"Surely, the people of Philadelphia must realize that when the most conspicuous leaders in his own Party in Pennsylvania cannot stomach Hemphill, loyal Republicans ought to beware of him and all he represents."

"Every one of these Philadelphia voters knows what the gang leaders back of Hemphill stand for. They ought also to realize that the gang has placed itself in a position where it must stand or fall on the result of this election. If Hemphill were elected they would control the State Government from top to bottom. But, if I know the temper of the people of the State, I am going back to Harrisburg, and the gang's days are numbered."
